Associate Pack: Extract from Book 1

(Mark pages, 3 and 4)

Introduction

Oct. 14, 2004

The information contained in this book will greatly assist your endeavours to secure a suitable and appropriate job in New Zealand.

You will benefit most by reading the information carefully, highlighting any areas of interest or concern and then re reading for clarification.

We are treating your application very seriously and we would hope that you will also prioritise some time to study all the books in PDF format and then make a quality decision with your final submission for Membership status.

The layout of this book has been deliberately designed not to impress you or entertain you, but to provide you will accurate, common sense advice and guidance to secure your new start in New Zealand.

It is important to note that our 'core business' is placing people like yourself into permanent employment in New Zealand.

Our success as an employment agent is already well documented and we are dedicated to helping immigrants into suitable employment and supplying the appropriate job offer papers required to gain permanent New Zealand residency.

The Process

Your application and subsequent acceptance for Associate Member has released this first level of information and assistance to you.

The choices you make from here will determine your future!

You may decide to utilise this information and pursue your own New Zealand residency or you may decide to verify your potential for permanent residency and apply to become part of our Member Core.

If you decide to pursue your application for New Zealand residency without professional assistance then we hope that the information contained in this book will be of assistance to you and your family.

If you decide to apply for Membership status then you will enjoy our exclusive personal service and you will soon begin to realise that we do not operate a typical employment or immigration agency.

Instead of working with large groups of people and securing job offers for only a few, we focus our energies on finding an appropriate job for a select group of people (Member Core) thereby increasing your chances of gaining New Zealand residency.

Personal Service

Once you are part of the Member Core you are given access to a personal recruitment manager inside our company.

It will be his/her job to communicate directly with you and to negotiate with various organisations on your behalf.

We believe this personalised service is one of the key differences in gaining your job offer.

Our exclusive service is unlike any other offered in New Zealand!

Should you need the specialised service of an immigration company, your representative will instruct them when to make the 'expression of interest' on your behalf.

Your personal representative has three prime responsibilities:-

1. Obtain a good job offer for you.
2. Make sure the employer has all the information they need.
3. Secure proper paper work to the NZIS so you can start work.

Your representative is part of a very disciplined and highly trained team of professionals to ensure that every possible stone is turned over in the search for the job you need.

Our personalised service means the responsibility of getting the job for you is our responsibility.

Finding a Job in New Zealand by yourself

Many people search the job boards on the internet but typically the chances of securing a job via this method is very limited and often a matter of luck.

Immigrants can take 3-6 months to secure a suitable job, during which time they may incur huge expenses, emotional stress and a potential loss of revenue over this period.

Our experience has shown that finding a good job that suits your qualifications by yourself is very difficult and even if you are successful some employers may choose to start you on reduced salary to minimise their risk.

Our objective is to find a good paying job for you quickly and with the least emotional or financial stress for you and your family.

We believe the whole experience of immigrating to New Zealand should be a positive one and we believe the job offer is a key factor on a positive relocation into our country.

Typical costs of finding a Job in New Zealand by yourself.

The table below highlights a typical cash flow of a migrant spending time in New Zealand looking for a job.

This table assumes you do not have family or friends to stay with throughout the country.....etc..... (Table Review)etc.....

In 3 months your cost will be $29,294.00

In 6 months your cost will be $55,388.00

Often it can take as much as 2 years after a job is secured in New Zealand to recover financially. The facts are very clear; chasing a Job Offer in New Zealand is expensive! Our recommendation is for you to use a professional organisation to assist you. If you decide to go it alone after reading through this pack then we are confident that the information we have sent you will at least give you a much better chance of being successful.
